ABSTRACT

Data on summer and fall 1981 enrollments in Pennsylvania colleges and universities are presented, including a brief narrative section on trends. Detailed statistical tables cover the following: enrollments by enrollment status and by sex, fall 1972-1981; total enrollments by type of institution, fall 1972-1981; enrollments by level of study, fall 1972-1981; summer school registrations, 1972-1981; total enrollments by institution, fall 1972-1981; undergraduate enrollments by sex and enrollment status by institution, fall 1981; first-professional enrollments by sex and enrollment status by institution, fall 1981; graduate enrollments by sex and enrollment status by institution, fall 1981; unclassified enrollments by sex and enrollment status by institution, fall 1981; first-time freshmen enrollments by sex and enrollment status by institution, fall 1981; registrations by level of study by institution, summer 1981; and full-time-equivalent enrollments by level of study by institution, summer 1981. Trends include the following: with the exception of 1978, total enrollments in higher education have continued to rise over the last 10 years; both full- and part-time enrollments have increased; during the last 10 years, the number of female students enrolling in Pennsylvania colleges and universities has risen by 46.2 percent; in 1981 the percentage of females of the total enrollment was 50.8 percent; projections indicate a migration of students away from private institutions and toward the public institutions during the next 10 years; summer registrations have fluctuated considerably over the last 10 years; and undergraduate enrollments are the driving force behind the total enrollment in higher education in Pennsylvania. FOREWORD

The series of publications entitled Our Colleges and Universities Today is designed to provide statistical data and trends relating to higher education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

"Summer and Fall Enrollments" is Number 1 of Volume XIX in this series. Other issues in the series, published either annually or biennially, provide data on degrees and other formal awards conferred, libraries, preparation and occupational pursuits of teachers, adult/continuing education activities, salaries and fringe benefits of full-time instructional faculty, and financial statistics.

Any inquiries relative to these publications, including suggestions for change, should be directed to the Division of Education Statistics, Bureau of Information Systems, Department of Education, 333 Market Street, P.O. Box 911, Harrisburg, PA 17108 (Phone 717-787-2644).

INTRODUCTION

The summer and fall enrollment data contained in this publication reflect current year figures as reported by each institution of higher education. All institutions of higher education in the state responded to this survey.

The data were obtained directly from the institutions on schedules provided by the National Center for Education Statistics or prepared in the Division of Education Statistics. Appreciation is extended to the responsive and cooperative group of higher education officials who are assisting in the continuous development of the Department of Education's higher education data system.

1980	512 041	348 191	163 850
1981	526 820	357 704	169 116

With the exception of 1978, total enrollments in higher education have continued to rise over the last 10 years to the largest number ever. Both full- and part-time enrollments show increases with full-time enrollments climbing 14.3 percent and part-time enrollments rising 35.3 percent during the last 10 years. These increases have continued to baffle forecasters who have been projecting decreases in enrollment for several years.

1981	526 820	259 120	267 700

During the last 10 years the number of female students enrolled in institutions of higher education in Pennsylvania has risen by 46.2 percent, and for the second year in a row there are more females than males attending these institutions. Last year the female population was 50.5 percent of the total enrollment, and this year that percentage has increased to 50.8 percent. Whether or not this trend will continue is difficult to predict.

The percent of students attending public institutions has fluctuated considerably over the last 10 years. This is in contrast to the nation as a whole, where the public institutions have a much larger percentage of higher education enrollments. Projections anticipate a migration of students away from the private institutions and towards the public institutions during the next 10 years.[1]

1981	526 820	409 563	14 371	55 756	47 130

By comparing the undergraduate and total columns of this table it will become quite apparent that the undergraduate enrollments are the driving force behind the total enrollment in higher education across the state. Changes in the other levels of enrollment are more than compensated for by the undergraduate figures.

1/ Total full-time students plus the full-time equivalency of the part-time students as reported by each institution. With some exceptions, the equivalencies for the proprietary schools and the state school of technology were derived by adding one-third of the part-time students to the total full-time students.

2/ Includes enrollments in master's degree program only.

3/ Includes enrollments in ASB and AST degree programs only.

4/ Includes only those students who completed a lesson within the 60-day period immediately preceding the reporting date.

5/ Formerly New Castle Business College.

6/ Includes Greensburg Center enrollments.

1/ Total full-time students plus the full-time equivalency of the part-time students as reported by each institution. With some exceptions, the equivalencies for the proprietary schools and the state school of technology were derived by adding one-third of the part-time students to the total full-time students.

2/ Includes enrollments in ASB and AST degree programs only.

3/ Includes only those students who completed a lesson within the 60-day period immediately preceding the reporting date.

4/ Formerly New Castle Business College.

5/ Includes Greensburg Center enrollments.

1/ In calculating the full-time equivalent enrollments for the summer sessions, the total undergraduate credit hours reported were divided by 30 and the first-professional, graduate, and unclassified credit hours were divided by 24 to arrive at an "academic year" FTE figure.
2/ Includes third trimester enrollments.
3/ Unduplicated count for spring term and summer session.
4/ Includes fourth quarter enrollments.
5/ Includes first quarter enrollments.
6/ Includes practicum, equivalent to one semester, by one-third of the fifth-year class. Each student receives 15 credits.
7/ No credits were awarded for summer enrollment, but enrollment was required for graduation.
8/ Includes enrollments in ASB and AST degree programs only.
9/ Estimated credits.
10/ Formerly New Castle Business College.

GLOSSARY

ENROLLED STUDENT--A student enrolled in college-level work that is creditable toward a bachelor's or higher degree or some other formal recognition below the baccalaureate. Excluded are students in noncredit adult education, those taking courses by mail (with the exception of Center for Degree Studies), radio or TV, auditors, those studying abroad if their enrollment at the reporting institution is only an administrative record and the fee is only nominal, those studying at a branch campus or extension center in a foreign country, and high school students taking college courses.

FIRST-PROFESSIONAL STUDENT--A student who is enrolled in a professional school or program which requires at least two academic years of college work for entrance and a total of at least six years for a degree.

FIRST-TIME FRESHMAN--A student who has not previously attended any college. Also included are those students who entered with advanced standing (college credits earned before graduation from high school) at the freshman level and those who attended college for the first time during the summer of 1981.

FULL-TIME STUDENT--A student whose academic load (coursework or other required activity) is at least 75 percent of the normal full-time load.

GRADUATE STUDENT--A student who holds a bachelor's or first-professional degree or equivalent, and is working toward a master's or doctor's degree.

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENT--A student enrolled in a 4- or 5-year bachelor's degree program, in an associate degree program, or in a vocational or technical program that is normally terminal and results in formal recognition below the baccalaureate.

UNCLASSIFIED STUDENT--A student who is not a candidate for a degree or other formal award, although taking courses in regular classes with other students. This category includes students who cannot be classified by academic level, as well as students who already have degrees but who are taking additional courses at the same degree level or below. It also applies to students with degrees below the baccalaureate at two-year institutions.
